American taxpayers are quite interested in knowing how banks have used the money that Treasury has invested under the Capital Purchase Program (CPP) and Community Development Capital Initiative (CDCI). To answer that question, Treasury is seeking responses that describe generally how the CPP/CDCI investment has affected the operation of your business. We understand that once received, the cash associated with TARP funding is indistinguishable from other cash sources, unless the funds were segregated, and therefore it may not be feasible to identify precisely how the CPP/CDCI investment was deployed or how many CPP/CDCI dollars were allocated to each use. Nevertheless, we ask you to provide as much information as you can about how you have used the capital Treasury has provided, and how your uses of that capital have changed over time. Treasury will be pairing this survey with a summary of certain balance sheet and other financial data from your institution's regulatory filings, so to the extent you find it helpful to do so, please feel free to refer to your institution's quarterly call reports to illustrate your answers. This is your opportunity to speak to the taxpayers in your own words, which will be posted on our website.

What specific ways did your institution utilize CPP/CDCI capital? Check all that apply and elaborate as appropriate, especially if the uses have shifted over time. Your responses should reflect actions taken over the past year (or for the portion of the year in which CPP/CDCI funds were outstanding).

Increase lending or reduce lending less than otherwise would have occurred.

The funds have been partially used for lending in our general market area which, had this not been done, would have caused our loan balances to fall even further than they did.

To the extent the funds supported increased lending, please describe the major type of loans, if possible (residential mortgage loans, commercial mortgage loans, small business loans, etc.).

During 2011, despite the continued low interest rate environment and general economic conditions, we did see loan growth in the second and fourth quarters. Most of our growth was in the Commercial & Industrial loan area. Loan growth was about 5% over the course of the year.

Increase securities purchased (ABS, MBS, etc.).

The funds were partially used for purchasing additional securities including mortgage-backed securities, CMOs and municipal bonds.

Make other investments.

Purchase another financial institution or purchase assets from another financial institution.

Held as non-leveraged increase to total capital.

As indicated the last two years, we were eligible to receive $34 million in CPP funds but accepted only $16 million. We viewed it as "comfort" capital, a way to support our capital position given the uncertainty of the economic environment of the last several years. We were happy to return it.
