American taxpayers are quite interested in knowing how banks have used the money that Treasury has invested under the Capital Purchase Program (CPP) and Community Development Capital Initiative (CDCI). To answer that question, Treasury is seeking responses that describe generally how the CPP/CDCI investment has affected the operation of your business. We understand that once received, the cash associated with TARP funding is indistinguishable from other cash sources, unless the funds were segregated, and therefore it may not be feasible to identify precisely how the CPP/CDCI investment was deployed or how many CPP/CDCI dollars were allocated to each use. Nevertheless, we ask you to provide as much information as you can about how you have used the capital Treasury has provided, and how your uses of that capital have changed over time. Treasury will be pairing this survey with a summary of certain balance sheet and other financial data from your institution's regulatory filings, so to the extent you find it helpful to do so, please feel free to refer to your institution's quarterly call reports to illustrate your answers. This is your opportunity to speak to the taxpayers in your own words, which will be posted on our website.

What specific ways did your institution utilize CPP/CDCI capital? Check all that apply and elaborate as appropriate, especially if the uses have shifted over time. Your responses should reflect actions taken over the past year (or for the portion of the year in which CPP/CDCI funds were outstanding).

Increase lending or reduce lending less than otherwise would have occurred.

What actions were you able to avoid because of the capital infusion of CPP/CDCI funds?

BankPlus was able to avoid numerous foreclosures of 1-4 family residential homes by funding the BankPlus Homeownership Stabilization Program with liquidity provided by the capital infusion of CPP/CDCI funds. The foreclosures were avoided by working with borrowers to restructure their loans with special terms to provide a workable repayment plan. The intent of the BankPlus Homeownership Stabilization Program is to stabilize real estate values in markets served by the Bank by working with homeowners and homebuilders to prevent foreclosures and to stimulate sales of homes and residential lots at fair market values rather than at forced sale liquidation values. The Program ensures an orderly, fair and consistent process for working with every homeowner who is at risk of foreclosure with BankPlus and will improve loan quality by providing an opportunity for those homeowners to restructure their home mortgage loan on a more affordable monthly payment. The special financing options include a reduced interest rate and an amortization of as long as 40 years if necessary to reduce the borrower's monthly payment to an affordable level. During 2011 foreclosures were avoided on 36 homes as follows: 13 homeowners avoided foreclosure on loans totaling $1,095,000. 23 homebuilders avoided foreclosure on loans totaling $2,859,000. 36 foreclosures were avoided on loans totaling $3,954,000.

Please describe any other actions that you were able to undertake with the capital infusion of CPP/CDCI funds.

BankPlus was able to expand its Small Dollar Loan Program, CreditPlus, during 2011 as a result of the liquidity provided by the capital infusion of CPP/CDCI funds. During 2011 there were 3,294 new small dollar loans funded totaling $2,447,500. The BankPlus Small Dollar Loan Program combines financial literacy training with a low-interest small-dollar loan alternative to expensive Pay Day Lenders, Check Cashing Services and other high-cost financial service providers to empower low-to-moderate income people to become part of the mainstream banking system.
