*Notices can be rejected if the parties do not satisfy requirements in the regulations or if, during the course of CFUIUS review, there is a material change to the transaction or information comes to light that contradicts material information in the notice by the parties.

Includes instances where the parties withdrew their notice and abandoned their transaction after (1) CFUIUS informed the parties that it was unable to identify mitigation measures that would resolve its national security concerns and was prepared to refer the matter to the President for decision, or (2) CFUIUS proposed mitigation terms that the parties chose not to accept.

Includes commercial reasons, failure to satisfy CFUIUS process requirements, non-CFUIUS related regulatory issues, notices awaiting refile at time of this report, and other reasons.
